possession and persuasion the rhetoric of christian faith is a rhetorical analysis of christian history and theology initially prompted by my experience in a fundamentalist christian sect the story of this experience is briefly told in the prologue the rhetoric of surrender which describes the surrender of my life to god through a commitment to an authoritarian christian sect in gainesville florida in 1972 when i was a freshman at the university of florida i spent the following fifteen years first as a student recruit trainee and then leader in the founding church in gainesville and then as a recruiter and trainer in other parts of the u s until i finally left the movement now called the international churches of christ in 1987 i subsequently combined graduate study in rhetoric with a continuing interest in biblical and historical scholarship in an effort to understand how my religious experience fit into the broader context of christian history and theology i concluded that the new testament language of faith originally formulated to persuade hearers of the christian message by means of understanding had been radically redefined and its effects rhetorically reengineered by the ecclesiastical christianity which had gradually emerged after the first century this process of rhetorical reinvention produced a language of faith that possessed its hearers by means of a mystical form of indoctrination in the interest of building a religious empire the degree to which ecclesiastical christianity throughout its history has taken its faith language seriously my experience having been produced by a movement that took this language to its logical conclusion is the degree to which its adherents experience a religious bondage that amounts to the antithesis of the spiritual freedom and social equality of the original experience of christian faith part i faith as possession addresses critical changes made by post apostolic theologians in the apostolic discourse of the new testament about the message of jesus specifically with reference to the rhetorics of authority chapter one knowledge chapter two and justice chapter three this rhetorical reengineering of apostolic language facilitated the rise of the institutional church which rapidly replaced the apostolic message as the authorized mediator between god and humanity in general and between god and the community of faith in particular that is the dynamic of persuasion by an eschatological message was rapidly replaced by the dynamic of possession by an ecclesiastical system the redefinition and reconceptualization of these apostolic terms amounted to the rhetorical invention of christianity a form of greco roman mythology which has little in common with the faith of jesus as it is revealed in the new testament the faith of christianity became and continues to be to varying degrees a form of possession insofar as it consists of in both a mystical and an institutional sense belonging to the church which relieves its members of their responsibility for their own identity and destiny part ii faith as persuasion explores the rhetoric of three apostolic ideals which have generally received little more than lip service by post apostolic christianity understanding chapter four anticipation chapter five and freedom chapter six these concepts are integral to persuasion as the modus operandi of the apostolic christian faith understanding is a prerequisite to authentic persuasion in that persuasion or belief without understanding is the essence of possession in that the meaning and power of the christian message are a matter of the hope of resurrection to life in the coming kingdom of god anticipation is the logical response to being understandingly persuaded of the truth of the message and insofar as internal bondage characterizes life without hope all the writings of plato generally considered to be authentic are here presented in the only complete one volume plato available in english the editors set out to choose the contents of this collected edition from the work of the best british and american translators of the last 100 years ranging from jowett 1871 to scholars of the present day the volume contains prefatory notes to each dialogue by edith hamilton an introductory essay on plato s philosophy and writings by huntington cairns and a comprehensive index which seeks by means of cross references to assist the reader with the philosophical vocabulary of the different translators the NIV Application Commentary helps you communicate and apply biblical text effectively in today's context to bring the ancient messages of the Bible into today's world. Each passage is treated in three sections:

1. Original Meaning: Concise Exegesis to help readers understand the original meaning of the biblical text in its historical, literary, and cultural context.
2. Bridging Contexts: A bridge between the world of the Bible and the world of today built by discerning what is timeless in the timely pages of the Bible. This section identifies comparable situations to those faced in the Bible and explores relevant application of the biblical messages.
3. Contemporary Significance: The author alerts the readers of problems they may encounter when seeking to apply the passage and helps them think through the issues involved. This unique award-winning commentary is the ideal resource for today's preachers, teachers, and serious students of the Bible, giving them the tools, ideas, and insights they need to communicate God's word with the same powerful impact it had when it was first written.

we all have freedom of choice nobody is telling you what you must do it is your conscience that you have to live with as we look around us these days do you notice how the world has changed we went from better to worse worse to horrific and we re heading from horrific to dread we can have the power to control situations only if we raise the levels of our own consciousness and get back to basics remember when we wore white shirts and black ties for assembly when your parents told you to do something you didn t ask why you just did it when no one is looking is about bringing integrity back into our lives and being more conscious of decisions we make and actions we take which can make this a better world the most influential tool we have in your entire arsenal is your integrity zig zigler only a person with integrity has the ability to command a long time respect and admiration young or old rich or poor it doesn t matter what you have now you can live with integrity and elegance and you can take utmost pride in that that is because integrity is something you decide to have it is a principle you chose to live by each of us will someday be judged by our standard of life not by the standard of living by our measure of giving not by our measure of wealth by our simple goodness not by seeming greatness william arthur ward
