These messages will offer insights for parents, health care professionals, educators, and politicians that will result in increased cooperation between all members of society and lead to a greater positive cooperation between individuals and countries for the common good of humanity and our planet. The messages also offer suggestions on how to turn our experiences of pain and suffering into the creation of a human being with greater understanding, compassion, and loving kindness towards self and others. We can learn to know and experience a life of joy and happiness. This is not an illusion; this is a noble truth. Imagine if you can, a five-minute sermon—impossible too brief to do any good. Perhaps this would be true for a church service, but imagine a book filled with uplifting, inspirational, motivating, heartfelt, fascinating, and timely messages. Imagine forty narratives—forty messages exploring scriptures, anecdotes, and the message of the church—all in easy to read, five-minute mini sermons featuring more than seventy-five scripture passages, numerous three-point outlines, and a unique scripture index. A joy to shout about, covers a wide range of topics including the title lesson on how and why experiencing joy should be part of everyone's life and create in me a new heart in which the author explains why we all need to come before God with this plea in helping others. Author Lucian Rudd reminds us how crucial it is as Christians to be of service to your fellow man in shining sunlight. As a Christian, you’ll learn the importance of adding beauty to your day or noticing the special spiritual brightness of your surroundings. If you ask God for strength and insight, you can brighten your corner of the world and walk away spiritually richer for it. You can enhance your relationship with God and ask Him for inspiration and guidance. Let a Joy to Shout About lead the way.
