The New York Times bestselling author of Witnessed Intruders and Missing Time. Three groundbreaking books on the UFO phenomenon return with astonishing evidence that otherworldly beings are a very real and growing part of our lives. In Sight Unseen, Page Hopkins and co-author Carol Rainey show how fascinating discoveries in modern science support the plausibility of the UFO phenomenon. Featuring sixteen never before published cases, Sight Unseen probes two newly uncovered patterns in alien abduction cases of UFO invisibility and reports of genetically altered alien beings who interact with humans during their routine lives. The invisibility accounts detailed by Hopkins include numerous daylight abductions in densely populated urban areas. All apparently unseen and accomplished through a technology of invisibility. Two air force non-coms are snatched from the Tarmac of a busy military airfield. An Australian family is levitated up into a hovering craft while the father remains paralyzed on the ground. With a camera to his eye, the resulting evidence on film is discussed in terms of our own scientific advances in the second series of cases. Abductees report encounters with beings who appear human but apparently possess paranormal powers and stunted emotional ranges three young women uncommon to each other are mysteriously summoned to job interviews in ordinary office settings. They encounter human-looking beings who lead them into baffling UFO abduction experiences.

Remembering Kobe Bryant 2016-10-04

The time frame is June through September of 1863. The characters were real people. The story follows the lives of five men who defended their homeland in America's most costly war. The novel is set in northwest Georgia. A heavily researched book about brave people making their way through impossible circumstances and about families torn apart. Their lives were not easy, and this event made life unbearable and impossible to stay in their homes. The main character Spilbsy Dyer at thirty-five had to remain faithful in his duty as an officer and resist the temptation to desert the army knowing his nearby family was in harm's way. Other characters were part of a mass movement by rail of troops stationed in Richmond, Virginia, and transported to northern Georgia. They were among the ones who historian Mary Chesnut wrote about when she recorded at Kingsville, N.C. I caught a glimpse of our army. God bless these brave fellows. Not one man intoxicated. Not one rude word did I hear. It was a strange sight. Miles of platform cars soldiers rolled in their blankets lying in rows heads covered and fast asleep in their gray blankets packed in regular order. They looked like swathed mummies all. These fine fellows going to kill or be killed. Why these men were part of the 132,000 soldiers who descended on the farm land of Northwestern Georgia from all areas of this young country in the drought ridden summer of 1863.

A seriously creepy thriller. I may never venture into the loft again. Mark Billingham disturbing blackly funny and completely compulsive. Alex North a brilliantly chilling story with tension on every page. T M Logan is a serial killer. He's hiding in your house. Thomas Brogan is a serial killer with a trail of bodies in his wake and the police hot on his heels. It seems like Thomas has nowhere left to hide. That is until he breaks into an abandoned house at the end of a terrace on a quiet street and when he climbs up into the loft he realizes that he can drop down into all the other houses through the shared attic space that's when the real fun begins. Because the one thing that Thomas enjoys even more than killing is playing games with his victims. The lonely old woman the bickering couple the tempting young newlyweds and his new neighbors have more than enough dark secrets to make this game his best one yet. Do you fear the resident soon you'll be dying to meet him. Brilliant so twisted clever and funny. Highly recommended. Mark Edwards. Clever, addictive and brazenly terrifying. I slept with the lights on after reading this one.

Chris Whitaker dark and disturbing yet so absorbing. Jackson knows how to reel you in. Mel Sherratt. A brilliantly creepy edge of your seat tense thriller.

Will Carver superb creepy pacy and oh so witty. Caz Frear. A chilling psycho thriller with a very novel twist.

Paul Finch utterly compelling and impossible to put down. Incredible. Luca Veste. Twisted as hell. I loved it.

Traveling to another planet is also a trip inside. It makes you pay a visit to some corners of your brain that are not always in working order. At home, everything has a length and a depth. This is our cubist environment. The stars above don't seem to have any use for our straight lines. Right angles and flat surfaces. You don't have to go far to see that our so-called normal way of thinking is only a first approximation. Our photographer fell in love on Planet Alicia. That was more than he expected. He went there with the idea that love is something that he produces and gives away, not the others. As those double stars going through the universe dancing around each other united by their distance, the transition was not easy. He nearly died. We went there convinced that we are the master of our ship. I came back thinking that I am trying to master the wind blowing in my sails.

Dale Jamieson and Bonnie Nadzam cause us to think and to feel what life will be like in a future where nothing is left that is spontaneous, accidental or uncontrolled. A beautiful and frightening book. Naomi Oreskes, professor of history of science, Harvard. Author of Merchants of Doubt. Nadzam's prose is just gorgeous. She writes about people and skies and mountains and landscapes with incredible precision and appreciation of beauty. A reader can swim in these sentences and soak up the landscape. Via the prose with great pleasure. Aimee Bender on Bonnie Nadzam's Lamb: I started reading Jamieson's prose and couldn't stop. Part of what's mesmerizing about climate change is its vastness across both space and time. Jamieson by elucidating our past failures and casting doubt on whether we'll ever do any better situates it within a humanely scaled context. Jonathan Franzen on Dale Jamieson's Reason in a Dark Time: An audacious collaboration between an award-winning novelist and a leading environmental philosopher. In Love in the Anthropocene the age of humanity and concluding with an essay on love, the love these writer philosophers investigate and celebrate is as much a constant as our human despoliation of the planet. It is what defines us and it is what may save us. Science fiction, literary fiction, philosophical meditation, manifesto. All the above. This unique work is destined to become an essential companion, a primer really, to life in the 21st century.
