Speaking Professionally 2014-12-18 Robert J. Houle examines the history of faith among colonial Zulu Christians known as amakholwa in what would become South Africa. Houle argues that Africans successfully naturalized Christianity, believing that before the religion could take hold, several aspects of Christianity needed to be translated to fill critical gaps between existing African beliefs and Christian tradition. This dual identity was difficult to reconcile through much of Zulu Christian history but ultimately transformed both the Zulu Christians and their adopted faith.
