Memories of Peking 1992-01 in five stories with a continuing cast of characters and many of the qualities of a novel. Memories of Peking south side stories portrays Peking of the 1930s as seen through the eyes of a little girl. These stories differ greatly from many other books on life in China whether about past times or the present day in that they neither dwell on politics nor try to propound beliefs of any kind. The stories are simple, direct, and personal. The reader experiences life in Peking through the eyes and innocent mind of the child. The author is well known for her perception and humor. She handles with great sensitivity and lyricism the sense of loss and bewilderment that arouses the child's awareness of the uncertainties of human relationships even of life itself and which finally catapults her away from childhood joys into the sorrows of the adult world.

The Boxers were a secret society who sought to rid their country of the pernicious influence of the foreign powers who had gradually acquired a stranglehold on China with the connivance of the imperial court. They laid siege to the legation quarter of Peking. Trapped inside were an assortment of diplomats, civilians, and a small number of troops. They were all Sir Claude MacDonald, the British minister in Peking. He had to defend against thousands of hostile Boxers and imperial troops. It would now be a race against time.
